

Web Conference

Vetsulin Update: Insulin Transitioning for Diabetic Patients

The Standard of Veterinary Excellence

Date and Time

Tuesday, November 24, 2009
11am Pacific, 12pm Mountain, 1pm Central, 2pm Eastern

Access

Follow the instructions online at www.aahanet.org/insulin

Web Conference Description

This live 60-minute web conference will cover the most asked questions stemming from the recent FDA alert, including:

- What should we do now?
- What are the other insulin choices?
- How do we switch patients to other types of insulin?

The web conference will feature information specific to the needs of dogs and cats, followed by a question and answer period.

About the Speakers

Audrey Karen Cook, BVM&S, MRCVS, DACVIM (Small Animal Internal Medicine), DECVIM

Dr. Cook graduated with Distinction from the Royal School of Veterinary Medicine at Edinburgh, completed an internship in small animal medicine and surgery, and a residency in small animal internal medicine. She is a Diplomate of the American College of Veterinary Internal Medicine and the European College of Veterinary Internal Medicine. Dr. Cook started and owned a referral practice for ten years. She is currently a Clinical Associate Professor in the Department of Small Animal Clinical Sciences at Texas A&M College of Veterinary Medicine. Her clinical interests include canine and feline endocrinology and gastroenterology.

Richard W. Nelson, DVM, DACVIM

Dr. Nelson received his DVM degree from the University of Minnesota, completed a small animal internship and a small animal medicine residency. He is a Diplomate of the American College of Veterinary Internal Medicine. Dr. Nelson is currently a professor of internal medicine at the University of California, Davis. His interest lies in the arena of small animal clinical endocrinology. He has authored numerous research manuscripts, book chapters, co-authored two textbooks and lectures internationally.